Dr. Greg Bell
Associate Dean of the Graduate School
Professional Development

• Your departments and programs give you the disciplinary content to become experts in your field.

• The Graduate School provides resources to
  • Improve your post-graduation job prospects
  • Become better public speakers
  • Share your research and creativity with a broad audience
  • Work and write with other graduate students
  • Meet students from other disciplines
Preparing Future Leaders

• Free nationally recognized program open to all currently enrolled UNCG and NC A&T Graduate Students.

• Faculty Track includes workshops on
  • Teaching
  • Assessing Student Learning
  • Writing Teaching Statements
  • Constructing Syllabi

• Professional Track includes
  • Management and Leadership
  • CV preparation
  • Interviewing and Job Searches

• Program completion indicated on transcript.
Three-Minute Thesis (3MT)

- An 80,000 word dissertation would take 9 hours to present. Your time limit … 3 minutes.
- Each Fall UNCG hosts a 3MT competition.
- Goal is to explain your research in only 3 minutes using one static PowerPoint slide.
- Winners from UNCG receive cash prizes and advance to regional finals
Graduate Research and Creativity Expo

• Held in April each year.

• 100+ graduate student participants; hundreds of attendees.

• Graduate students use posters to explain their work with the public.

• Judges award $1000 prizes to the winners.

• Some winners go to Raleigh to meet with NC General Assembly members in May.
Graduate School Writing
Events

• In Graduate School you’ll be writing more than you ever have before. The Graduate School is there to help with a space and a place – and often with coffee.

  • Writing Bashes take place at the start of each semester.
  • Writing Bootcamps happen during breaks.
  • Peer writing support groups provide a community of writers who commit to meet and write together.
  • Graduate Write-ins are drop-in writing events occurring on Fridays throughout the semester.
Fostering a Sense of Community

• Get involved as a Graduate Student Senator on the Graduate Student Association
  • GSA awards research funds and travel funds to graduate students

• Join one of the other Graduate Student organizations
  • For a complete list see https://sa.uncg.edu/

• I will be visiting departments throughout the year to learn what the Graduate School can do for you.
Contact Me

• Send me an email at gcbell@uncg.edu
• Drop by my office in 241 Mossman Building
• Tweet me @GradSchoolGreg

I want to hear from you about things the Graduate School can do to improve your experience at UNCG.
